My Pockets are Full of You

Reception: Wednesday, September 7th, 2011 6-8PM

Show Dates: September 7th - October 1st

Francesca Arcilesi Fine Art in conjunction with TriBeCa Group @ Bond presents My Pockets are Full of You. In her new series of work, Margaret Withers combines loose brushy patches of paint with smoother shiny surfaces to explore her story of migrating. With precarious telephone poles and scattered dabs of color, her paintings depict a whimsical environment that bring us on an evocative journey.

“Including undertones of play and humor in my artwork is my way of generating a distinct vocabulary by which I propel my narratives and proffer a challenge to either discover the story or pretend a new one. My artwork is my knock on the door for the viewer to come out and play.

At play under the hot Texas sun in the shadow of a pumpjack: mud pies baked, children wailed, a tired old lady trudged between water and shadows, in a blink, she became a hobo, hopping a train, singing a song and dreaming of life in the big city.” -Margaret Withers
